Although we may forget some of the knowledge we have learned in Sudan High School, the friendships we have formed here will forever remain a part of us. These friendships have been lessons in themselves: they have taught us to be more compassionate persons, they have shown us the meaning of fun, they have broadened our horizons. Recognizing the importance of friendship, we, the Annual Staff, have made it the theme of the '65 HORNET.

At basketball games, Son is in charge of the balls.

In Appreciation for the constant aid and enthusiasm with which he has supported Sudan High School athletics as a manager and for his inspiring example of friendliness to all, we dedicate the '65 HORNET.

Dear Students:

In the years to come, you will enjoy looking back through this annual to recall your friends and your experiences. May the friends you make be dear and lasting ones. May your experiences add wisdom and happiness.

Whatever the future holds for you, it is our fondest hope that the school year 1964-65 will be remembered as a profitable one for you.

Sincerely,

W. E. Hancock

Students:

There is much for each of us to do, for we are responsible for our own destiny. In this time of atoms and space, we must continually improve ourselves through education.

Becoming educated is our responsibility; no one can do this for us. Therefore, do not waste any time; work today while you can because a chance to work tomorrow may never come.

Sincerely,

R. W. Stewart

Students:

I sincerely wish you, the students of Sudan schools, the happiness that will come from your reaching the worth-while goals that you have set for yourselves. As you work toward your goals, I hope that you will always realize the importance that your school has played in your lives.

Congratulations on the completion of another successful school year.

Smile Sweethearts

All of us recognize these sunny smiles as belonging to Smile Sweethearts, RICKY HUMPHREYS and SONJA FORD.

Friendliest

Everyone knows friendly people like to talk, and KAY BAKER and FRANK CANTU certainly seem to enjoy talking with their friends. Perhaps that is one reason they were elected Friendliest!

Cutest Couple

A cozy rug, flickering firelight--what a romantic setting for the Cutest Couple, SUSAN JONES and CORLEY BAKER!

Most Courteous

Although MIKE FISHER and CYNTHIA PARRISH seem to have the rules of etiquette rather mixed-up, they must know something about good manners, for they were elected Most Courteous.

Wittiest

Aha! Caught in the act! Only our own BRENDA DRAKE and D. W. MULLER would have the wit to think of this prank.

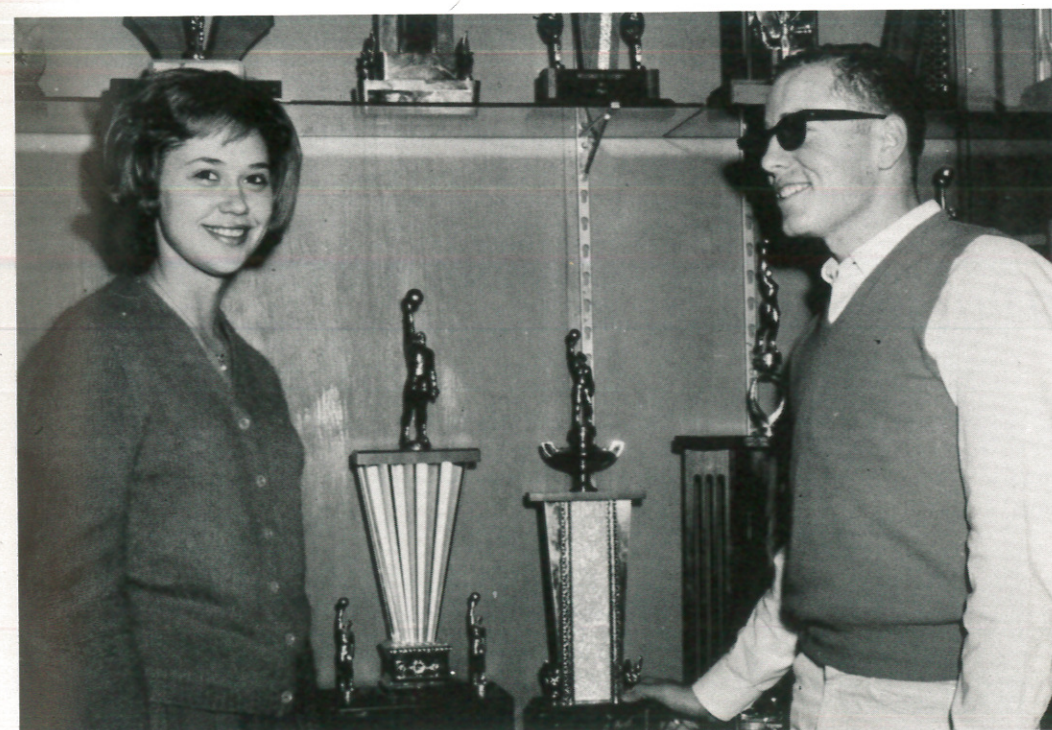

Most Intellectual

What more typical place could we find the Most Intellectual students --DANNY MARTIN and RUE JEAN HANCOCK--than in the library!

Most Versatile

Although MIKE FISHER and RUE JEAN HANCOCK do not usually engage in sports, studies, and art at the same time, the two Most Versatile students enjoy taking part in all three.

Most Athletic

NANCY HAYES and KENZEL MAY, Most Athletic boy and girl, must be reminiscing about all the trophies they helped to win in their years at Sudan High.

Senior Favorites

Obviously, SONJA FORD and CRAIG WALSER are always willing to help with any kind of work that has to be done--one reason they were elected Senior Favorites.

Sophomore Favorites

Courteous, considerate, friendly --these words describe Sophomore Favorites SANDRA LANE and DANNY MARTIN.

Junior Favorites

Here's someone else lending a helping hand! The Juniors' Favorite Girl, JUDI HAZEL, straightens a tie for CORLEY BAKER, the Juniors' Favorite Boy.

Freshmen Favorites

These two lively "youngsters," GARY GATEWOOD and VICKI MASTEN, are Freshman Favorites.

Football Sweetheart

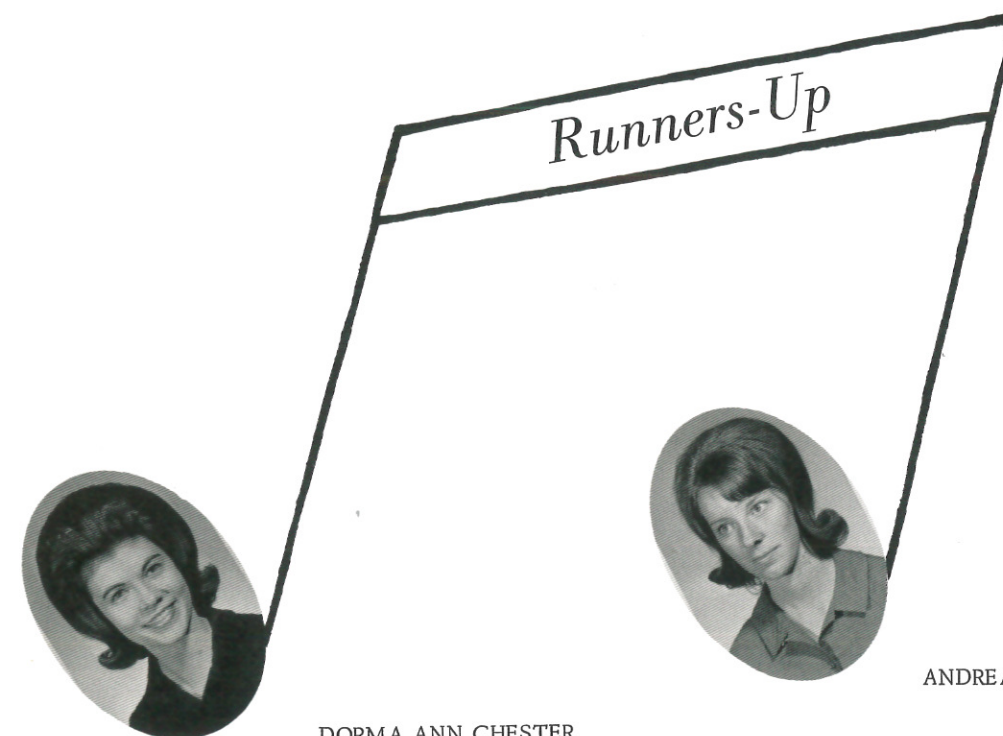

Although CYNTHIA PARRISH may not understand football equipment, she must know something about Sudan football players, for they elected her their Sweetheart.

Band Sweetheart

FLONITA WALLACE was on top of the world--oops, drum!--when she learned she had been elected Band Sweetheart.

Mike Smith eludes a tackler as Corley Baker rushes in to aid him.

Joyce Williams whizzes in for a lay-up shot as her team-mates, Tanya Fox and Donna Gaston, and Hale Center guards look on.

Mystery Question: Is Corley Baker shooting a jump shot or rebounding the ball?

Loretta Damron rushes in to rebound as Donna Heard arches a set shot in the home game against Springlake.

Scenes From the Junior Play

"Nice doggie, good doggie . . ."
Who would have thought Al Alexander could be so ferocious!

Don't take it so hard, girls. After all, we all have to go sometime

Don't be so downhearted, Corley.
Marcy doesn't seem to have given up!

If Paula is Al's mother, she certainly needs to do something about his posture!

"On the Way to Dallas"

Starring the FHA Girls

Lynda Logan and Sonja Ford hold one of their intellectual conversations:

Lynda discusses the scientific merits of a can of Right Guard. Could Sonja be thinking, "She ought to know"?

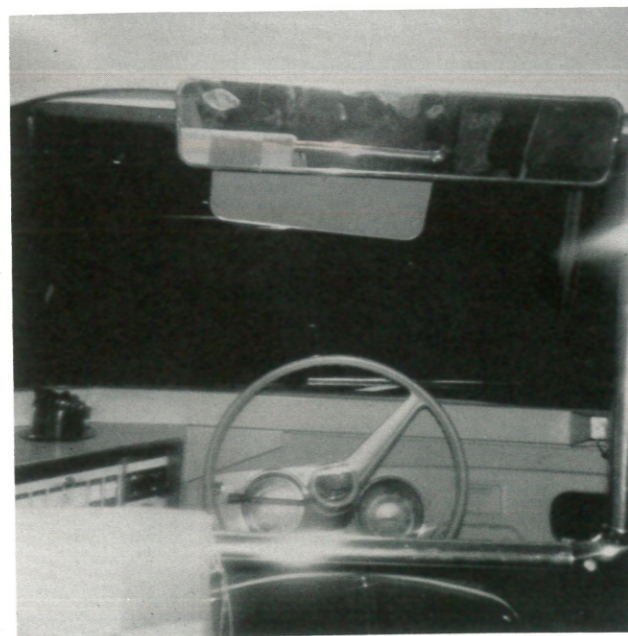

Next Lynda decides to add a note of culture by re-enacting Act III of Macbeth.

Sonja and Lynda always end their conversations with a few moments of thoughtful reflection.

You heard about the little accident the girls had in Lubbock, didn't you? It wasn't really their fault, of course. They had only forgotten one teensy-weensy thing--a driver.

Let's see how the other girls are taking it.

Cynthia Parrish must be remembering how she was crowned Football Queen just a few hours before. Maybe she's remembering that kiss, too!

Sandra Lambert looks like she's enjoying herself, at any rate.

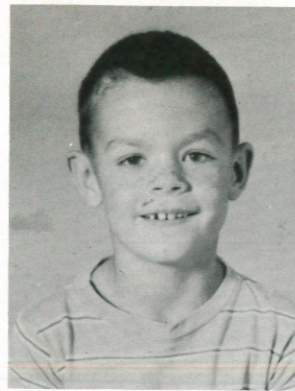

Dorma Ann Chester must be sleeping it off--and on the floor, yet!

Finally the girls retire to their luxurious sleeping quarters for a much-needed rest.
