

The Buzzer

Well, friends another six weeks has just been folded up in the pages of time. Can you feature only 11 more weeks and this glorious school year will be at an end?

That old favorite "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place," is being sung by a different party this week. Could Ann's going with T.C. have anything to do with this, Zanelle? Can't say we didn't warn you.

Ralph and Bill Nix seem to be doing alright over Springlake way. There's a formula in this case. Cousins have friends, friends meet cousins, then gang, you've got romance. (I guess)

Pinky, how is Amherst and Mary Sue? Did you really stand her up the other night, or did Salem just make up the tale? Speaking of Salem, did you get your phone call into the big city o.k.?

Alta is really doing the rounds nowadays. Don't be down-hearted Alta, maybe they won't work on the roads forever.

Claud just can't seem to make up his mind. He doesn't want to show his girl with other boys, but he surely likes to share himself with lots of girls. His getting to be a regular "cassanova."

That old favorite, "Somebody else Is Taking My Place" is being sung by a different party this week. Could Anns going with T.C. have anything to do with this Zanelle? Can't say we didn't warn you.

Come on, Leland, let us in on the secret. We hear you are engaged to?"

Robert seems to be doing all right for himself. First it is his Lubbock girl Thurs., the preachers daughter Fri and his Lubbock girl by phone Saturday. What next???

Von, I was just wondering who you are going with now. I see you were talking to U.J. and Bobby comes by and yells to you, and Joe stands on the corner and grins.--

Ye Gods, woman, why don't you make up your mind?

The steadiest of steadies --- Thurman Bryant and Doris Morris, They are always seen setting in the study hall together (in the same seat) Other steadies are Mary Beth and Kelton, Bobby Jack and Mary Jo (I think I might have more on this next week)

Oh, that look Bobby Jim gives, Leota in the 1st period sh. Isn't it simply adorable, Leota?

Connie and his Littlefield girl are still going steady. Don't you two ever step out on each other?

Where does Ralph find all those pretty women?

Gaynell and Dick seem to be doing all right as far as romance is concerned, but what about their studies? Don't you know that school is not the place for such things.

Denzel and Glen seems to be on the beam. Those Amherst girls really do get around.

J.C. and Sap also had a car load Sunday night.

Lyndol, what has happened to you and Sue? We never have anything from your way anymore.

Floy, we thought you were the bashful type until Sat nite. Oh Leonard????

Juanda and her Littlefield friend are really spending a lot of time with each other lately. At the stroke of midnight Sat they were still slowly riding around and then the same thing again Sunday.

Claud now that Joy rides your bus maybe your long-lived dream will come true. Joy, what about Pinky? That Claud really rates.

Joe may not play basketball but he'd better watch it or "Hot Shot" might foul him.

Mary was more than willing to hunt knee-pads for Von the second time. Could it be that she like the company she had to hunt them with? Come, come, Mary and tell us all about it.

Parties

Young people, boys as well as girls, should be allowed and even encouraged to give parties now and then for their friends. First of all, they are excellent training in the art of being a gracious host or hostess, and secondly, they provide a necessary outlet for natural social inclinations. The young person who cannot entertain his friends is cheated of the pleasure and the valuable training of playing host; his friends may stop inviting him to their parties since he never returns his hospitality; he may gradually be forced to choose his friends among the underprivileged, or perhaps less desirable members of the community. His home loses its attraction as a pleasant place to spend the evening, and sooner or later he takes to meeting his friends on the street corner or in the local ice-cream parlor in the evening. A young person's entertaining and parties need not be expensive or elaborate, but there must be a warmth and friendliness about the home atmosphere which makes the guests and the young host or hostesses feel welcome and at ease.

The mother or older person who helps plan the party should see that there are enough refreshments, that there are accommodations for dancing, that there are tables and cards for bridge, or materials for other games when they are to be played. She may also receive the first group of guests with the party properly launched, but she should not remain with the party all evening or try to mingle in and be one of the gang.

If the mother is not in sight the departing guest should leave a message for her with the hostess.

Have You Noticed:

- The six week test being over?
- Mrs. Fields being absent every week end?
- Jiggs has gone fishing?
- Robert being so independent and so sorry afterwards?
- Billye Frances wearing Claud's basketball?
- Altab being down in the dumps.
- Mr. Chance being so jolly?
- The students no being in the hall so much?
- The annual being well underway?
- The press room being deserted?
- The improvement in the 7th and 8th grade basketball students?
- The football field lately? YOU wouldn't know it?
- Articles are suppose to be in Wednesday at noon?
- Everyone getting along so well? Oh Yea????
- Basketball season almost over?
- A Anyone wanting a party soon? YES
- Yvonne's red hair, black eyebrows and eyelashes?
- Theat "moring after feeling" on Monday morning?
- Those good old sandstorms? THOSE GOLD BASKETBALLS?
- Peggy looking lonesome lately? cheer up, you will find a real man some day.
- All these scheduled pencils around school?

Animals of the Classroom

Let us began with the Barn Owl. These little birds apparently were brought up in a barn, and they mistake any building larger than a shanty for a barn--especially schoolhouses. They hoot and howl in the halls and shriek at their friends. They are very susceptible to overdoses of excitement. Frequently they get hysterics a pep meetings and are subject to sudden attacks of "Yea, Team!" in the halls after the meeting. If you encounter one of these little birds, it is best to use a fire extinguisher to subdue him before he becomes a nuisance.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Lybrand's first grade enjoyed the Valentine party which their room mothers gave to them.

Mrs. Chesher's second and third grades are planning to organize an Audobon Bird Club.

The class is also taking part in a Lifebuoy-Clean-Hand Campaign. Each student will be awarded a gold star each week after he has complied with the rules. Even after the swell Valentine party the class had last Friday, they still cannot remove their decorations. They're so pretty. Lucille Rainey of this class is moving and will attend school at Circleback.

Mrs. Baccus's third grade celebrated Valentine Day with a party in the home room. Our room Mothers came as well as some of our parents. Games were played and everyone received a number of lovely valentines. Cookies, in the shape of hearts, and apples were served and apple-men were given as prizes in a contest. The third is cooperating well in the used clothing drive. Many useful garments have already been donated by the class members.

Mrs. Moring's fourth grade enjoyed a big Valentine Party on Friday of last week, sponsored by their most faithful room-mothers. Mesdames Shannon, Bryant, Messamore and Terrell. They served three gallons of ice-cream, and dainty red and white iced cup cakes and cold drinks. They had as their honored guest Mr. John E. Smith. Every boy and girl received several valentines. Jimmy Moring, who received 20, and Colene Bryant, who received 23, received the largest number. All the girls appreciated their little "I Love You" pins which Mrs. Moring gave them. The boys said they have had good luck ever since they were given the rabbit's foot from Mrs. Moring. Jimmy knows that his rabbit's foot helped the basketball girls win the county tournament, as he wore it to each game. What ever helped to do it, we are all proud of the basketball girls and will even loan each of them a rabbit's foot to wear to the district meet. We

We are overjoyed over the installation of our new lavatory and fountain in our room. It is going to help us a lot in carrying out our health program. Together, with our room mothers, we all worked hard to get it and now, we each pledge ourselves to take good care of it and use it to a good advantage.

Mrs. May's fifth grade is beginning the study of fractions. If you see some of them, you might ask them to divide their candy equally with you, but don't be surprised at the amount they give you.

We're planning a Valentine Box and party for Thursday. We already have the box in the room. Incidentally, it is already filled. There is a box of candy in it too, but anyone knowing Bobby Don Crouch isn't curious as to whom it belongs.

Mrs. Doty's fifth grade enjoyed a Valentine party last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Beal, one of our room mothers, gave us heart shaped cookies of all colors, which were very beautiful.

We are enjoying a new health book and also a new reader.

About seventeen students attended a party last Thursday night. This was in honor of the Grade School music Club. Valentine games were played by the group. Heart-shaped cookies with red icing were served with hot chocolate.

Those attending were: Bobby Bristow, Bobby Lynch, Arlis Hogue, Margie Messamore, Fredda Patterson, Romona Lowe, Wannelle Parkman, Carole Grupe, Sue Glover, Alton Atkinson, Randall Redmond, Benny Robinson, Glenn Chester, Billye Eareen, Bill Grupe, Wanda Henderson, and Viola Reece.

Mrs. L.E. Burkes, reported back to teaching Monday after being absent two days last week.

Mrs. Marvin May was absent from school the first part of the week. Her husband has returned from overseas and has been ill. A substitute teacher filled in.

The Juniors elected a Jr. Editor and co-editor of the Hornet's Nest. The purpose of electing them was so that the Editor (Robert Walser) and co-editor (Pill Markham) could train them to take over for next year. Feedy Peacock and Lyndol Tyler were elected.

Word was received that the press club pens will be mailed the 5th of March. Press dues must be in before receiving one of them.
CORRECTION OF LAST WEEK: Prin. L.E. Burkes is coaching the 7th grade girls and Coach Smith, the boys.

The gold basketballs for the Sudan tournament were received and passed out to the winners this week.

Congratulations to the Basketball girls and Coach Moring for winning county tournament--The very best of luck from all of this this week end.

Mr. Roberts, from Koens Studio in Lubbock was up last week. He brought the Senior and group pictures that will be used in the annual. He also took measurements for the Senior panel which he hopes to have finished in the near future.

Mrs. Kenneth Fields, the former Miss Holland, was surprised with a bridal shower Monday nite, Feb. 18 at the home of Mrs. FC Boyles. All high school classes and clubs received invitations. There were about 30 present and all enjoyed a well planned program.

Mr. Perry Moring went to Lubbock Tuesday to a meeting with the county superintendents to decide the place for District Tournament. The place decided on was Cooper, 10 miles south of Lubbock. Sudan teams play Mackindow and Flamant.

The old clothes drive was held the first part of the week.

The home economics club had a meeting and decided to have the annual Mother-Daughter banquet March. 15.

The Juniors have received their play books and will begin work on the play as soon as possible.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Anyone who has lost a sheaffer fountain pen on the streets of town see Doris Morris.

Clifton Brandon, an ex-hornet was at school Monday having his credits transferred to Texas University. He plans to room with Shelby Bowely.

The speech club reports their play to be almost ready to give in assembly soon.

Tennis players have been enjoying a few pretty days of tennis this week. Students interested in playing tennis should fix your schedule with Mr. Burkes soon.

Work began on the football field last week. The goals have been taken down, the trees moved and pruned, and the water pipes have been changed.

A program was held in the high school gym Tuesday nite in order for FO Masten to present Sudan High with a check for the football stadium.

SCHOOL OF EXPERIENCE

At the Enid, Okla., Army airfield, a very young combat retiree with a sleeve full of overseas stripes was asked where he was from.

"I was born in Brooklyn," he replied, "and raised in New Guinea." (The above was taken from the January edition of Reader's Digest.)

- That Miss Holland is now Mrs. Fields? The ever-popular uniform of T.C. and Zanelle have really parted company?
- That Amherst girls can't take a hint--eh, Pinky?
- That Pill gets to take the cast off her leg next Monday?
- That the boys didn't believe that the girls won the County Tournament?
- That "Mackey" has a secret lover?
- That Billye F. and Claud are really serious?
- That the Muleshow boys are really interested in Mutt?
- That Virgie and Barbara went with their heart throbs Friday?
- That the Juniors finally got their play books?
- That the detention hall is really a lot of fun(Oh, yeah?)
- That Mr. F.O.Masten really donated the money for our long dreamed of football stadium?
- That Joy Hanna is really interested in a certain blonde in S.H.S.?
- That Jonelle gets daily letters from a guy in the Navy?
- That Lecta and Ann are really going around the world?
- That Jean S. and Davy are getting up a case(That's what we hear)
- That Bill Nix really likes Mary Sue Long from Amherst?

The latest fad is gold and silver miniature basketballs on a chain or just pinned on a coat or shirt. Both boys and girls are wearing these. Not only are they stylish, but also they are something to be proud of.

FOR YOUR FUNNY BONE.

A friend asked George Jessel,

"How's you Ma?"

"Terrible," said George. "She's got Chronic Frontal Sinusitis."

"Good Lord, where did she get that?"

"From Reader's Digest, she read about it last month."

Mary Beth to Kelton in Press Room:

"Stop the presses this minute,"

"Why?" exclaimed Kelton.

"You press too tight," said Mary Beth with a shy smile.

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS

Come Spring and colors burst forth in malady's costume as gaily as colors burst forth from bough and sod. The thermometer doesn't exactly say it's spring, but the bright colored clothes do.

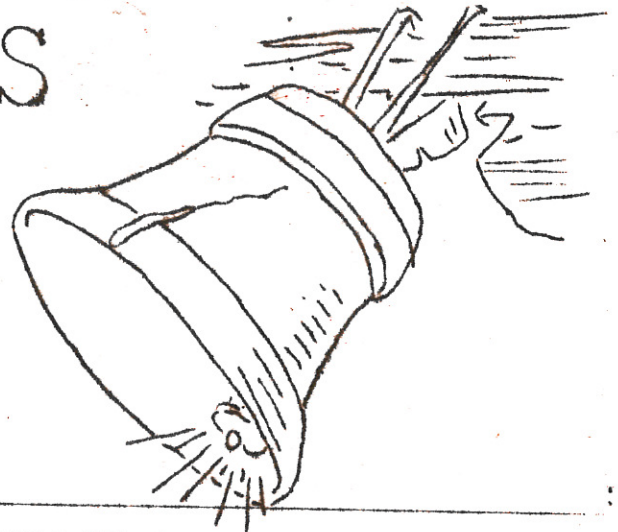

Jean Shirley is leading the fashion parade in her pink and white candy striped print dress with white collar. 'Tis definitely "Chic."

A rose wool princess made dress with blue and green embroidery definitely adds color to the cheeks of June Patton. We all love that.

A light blue wool suit worn by Peggy Kent brings out the blue of her eyes. In this, she proves to us that she definitely is the "most beautiful girl in S.H.S."

GIRLS WIN COUNTY TOURNEY

Who said the Sudan girl's basketball team couldn't go anywhere? Who ever did, and if any of you are guilty, I'm sure here to tell you that the girls are going to STATE.
La st week-end, the girls played two very fast and exciting games in the Amherst Gymnasium. The first was against Amherst, who had until then, the reputation of being undefeated. The second was with Little field, who also has a very good team and a lot of vim, vigor and determination.

Yes, the girls have made up their minds to go to state, and, as Mr.
Masten has said many, many times,
they can do almost anything that they want to do very bad. This coming week-end, the girls go to Cooper to play in the District Meet. Sudan drew a bye, so therefore the girls do not play until Friday night at 8:00PM, and they will play the winner of the Macadoo-Flowmont game.

No one knows what got into the girls all of a sudden, but lately, it seems that there is that extra something which makes a ball team.
Perhaps it was their wanting to show everyone that they could do as Much and more maybe, than the boys;

perhaps they were tired of people saying Sudan didn't have a girl's team at all. Maybe it was Mr. Morning's faith in them, and his determination to really make a team out of them. Whatever it was, they have it now, and it will carry them on to a victorious end. It is remaining to be seen as to just how far this extra something will carry them, but I think it will carry them directly into the finals in District and perhaps onto state, their one dream.

We're all behind our boys and girls and they know it, whether we get to attend all the games or not, they know we're praying for them wherever they are, and whoever they're playing. Let's all let them know it this week-end as they journey forth to meet strange teams in strange territory.

Monday, basketballs were presented to the girls who made the all-tournament teams at our annual tourney a few weeks ago, and also to the rest of the girls who had not received a ball during the year.
All the team did not receive balls
but those that did not have another year or two in which to earn one.
Congratulations Girls and Coach
